‘Notre-Dame de Paris, the Augmented Exhibition’

‘D-Day: Freedom from Above’

‘Arts and History Museum of Bormes les Mimosas’
A French Tech & French Touch start-up, Histovery is at the forefront of innovation with augmented reality and 3D content production historically validated at the service of heritage enhancement.

HistoPad, our scalable ‘Augmented Reality Tour’ on a tablet, revolutionizes the visitor experience in situ through spectacular 360° immersive reconstitutions and interactive manipulation of content, always carried out in strict accordance with scientific knowledge.

HistoPad is now available in 20 of our heritage sites, serving more than 3 million visitors per year.
‘Notre-Dame de Paris, The Augmented Exhibition’
The exhibition offers an exclusive plunge into the cathedral's history, from its first foundation stones in 1163 to the current restoration building site.

This innovative exhibition marries physical scenography with augmented reality. Armed with the HistoPad tablet, visitors can scan the 'Time Portal' to embark on a journey in space and in time, to the discovery of a vanished past through spectacular 3D reconstructions, and to a meeting with the builders of today, by using 3D modelling and immersive experiences at the heart of the building site and its operations.

The exhibition is produced by the French start-up Histovery, in collaboration with the public body responsible for the preservation and restoration of Notre-Dame de Paris Cathedral, thanks to the sponsorship of the L'Oréal Group.

‘D-Day, Freedom from Above’ in the National US Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio
The "D-Day: Freedom from Above" Augmented Exhibition allows visitors to immerse themselves into the battle of American paratroopers on June 6, 1944 in Sainte-Mère-Eglise, Normandy, France. Visitors relive key moments such as the heroic parachuting on the village, the ferocious fighting at the bridge of "La Fière" and the temporary military hospital set up on D-Day at "La Colombière".

"D-Day: Freedom from Above" has already been presented twice, in the US Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio, the oldest and largest museum of military aviation in the world with over a million visitors per year and in the US Airborne and Special Operations Museum in Fayetteville, North Carolina. It was designed in partnership with the Airborne Museum of Sainte-Mère-Eglise.
Arts and History Museum of Bormes les Mimosas
The new Arts and History Museum of Bormes les Mimosas (MHAB), inaugurated in October 2022, was designed and produced by Histovery in partnership with the city.

Thanks to an immersive scenography enhanced by historical reconstructions on the HistoPad tablet, the visitor travels through 15 key dates in the history of the town, from the first century BC when the Bormeans settled until the holidays of the Presidents of the Fifth Republic at the Fort de Brégançon.

The MHAB, first "Augmented Museum", thus offers a new and unprecedented concept for a museum, bringing back to life the history and vanished heritage of an entire territory in a way accessible to all.
